

ELEVATE in D&D London

What is Elevate?

Elevate is a management development programme created by D&D London Ltd. This programme has been designed in order to support and aid the development of those people, who have the hunger and passion to want to be managers of the future in the exciting and constantly changing world of restaurants.

Who should apply?

You will be enthusiastic, motivated, Passionate about Food & Drink and above all else have the need to embrace innovation and entrepreneurialism.

What's involved?

- A challenging year of hard work.
- You will develop your own learning programme.
- Regular meetings with a mentor (senior manager or director).
- Both on and off the job training.
- Project work based around four areas; Food & Drink, Finance, Human Resources and Sales & Marketing – all projects are set to meet the needs of the individual business.
- Performance monitored both formally through an annual performance review and informally through monthly job chats.

What are the benefits?

- You will be involved in the day today running of a business.
- You will experience all the challenges and rewards of operating a restaurant.
- You will learn from some of the best chefs and restaurant managers in the world.
- Opportunity to build a life long career in an environment where you can flourish.
- An impressive range of training resources, which you will be able to draw upon as you need them.
- Employee discounts in D&D London restaurant collection.

What are the commitments by the restaurants?

- Competitive Salary.
- Two paid training days a month and a commitment to personal development plan.
- A Mentor from the senior team to support and guide.
- Equal opportunities employer.

How to apply?

This is a serious commitment to a year of hard work but also a lot of fun and the chance to give yourself a complete grounding in the restaurant business to support your future. Only those who are serious about their careers and the restaurant business need apply.

Contact Liz Cave on lizc@danddlondon.com